

PARTNERSHIP ANNOUNCEMENT

Bring Global is pleased to announce a new partnership with Red Hat, a leading provider of enterprise open source solutions.

Through this partnership Bring Global will increase its integration capability in the field of data solutions and will further help its customers on their journey to success.

"Today we are excited to announce our global partnership with Red Hat, one of the world's leading provider of enterprise open source solutions. Said Paulo Goulão, Partner of Bring Data Solutions. "We truly believe our clients will benefit from this partnership as our models align in the data solutions space, a strategic area for Bring where Integration is key".

"In RedHat's expansion plan, it is paramount to count on the support of our partners' ecosystem. The Integration area, key in our development, will be strengthened with this new alliance. We welcome and wish Bring the greatest success through this partnership.", said Edgar Ivo, Territory Manager – Portugal.
